Portable irrigation for abandoned properties

When the water is shut off, we can help!

Abandoned homes can cause problems for a community including dying trees, fire hazard, gang invitation, eye sore and lower property values. Keeping things watered can help. Simply turning on the water service may cause more problems if something inside leaks. Filling a water truck from a fire hydrant and watering each unit with 1,000—2,000 gallons per visit should help trees and shrubs survive. We take care of the hassle by getting the water meter, paying for the water and giving you one flat price per visit. Unlike construction water trucks, our operators work in private communities everyday.
